Dear Senators Gillibrand (14th Floor) and Schumer (8th Floor):

I'm concerned about how our Country treats families. It may not always be possible, but I feel the best thing any child can have is both parents. And being involved with their child is one of the best things for parents.

I definitely feel fundamental Family Rights should NOT depend on what State you live in. New York, Alabama, or any state doesn't have the right to interfere without first recognizing your Family Rights.

I like what these simple words have to say:

When a child is born, both biological parents have a right to know. A child has a right to both parents in their lives. Fit parents decide what's in the 'best interests' of their children. Good, average, & poor parents are Fit & Equal parents. Before you can be labeled as a BAD parent, a criminal conviction of being a serious & demonstrated threat to your children must happen first.

Sincerely yours,
